INTRODUCTION

This is the twelfth volume of the Tudor series (Part IV) of the edition of the London customs accounts (TNA: PRO E122). It is comprised of 1) the wool customs and subsidy particulars of account for 1516/17 and 2) the wool customs and subsidy controlment roll for 1517/18.

Everything the reader needs to understand about the English customs system – and the peculiarities of the customs administration in London – has been detailed in the introduction to the pilot edition.¹ However, there are some issues to be dealt with.

WOOL CUSTOMS AND SUBSIDY (1516/17)

At first glance, stability seems to be the rule here. The staple company continued to retain the proceeds of the wool customs and subsidy (totalling £8807 7s 9d in this year) - which were actually paid over by the merchants on arrival in Calais - by authority of an act of the parliament of 5 Feb. 1515² and a royal mandate directed to the customers dated 9 Apr. 1516, which was not enrolled.

However, there are some shipments of wool to the Mediterranean at reduced rates of customs and subsidy which need to be discussed.

Geoffrey Gate kt.

The particulars of account record three shipments of 48¾ sacks and 4 cloves of wool to the Mediterranean by Geoffrey Gate kt. through his Florentine factors Petro Corsi and Philippo Friscobalde (ship 85, p. 81, ship 87, p. 81-2, ship 89, p. 86). Notes appended to the individual entries state that the customers received 4 marks/sack for all customs, subsidy and Calais duties by warrant of Henry VIII's patent of 15 Nov. 1515 (Appendix I) and the corresponding writ of 30 Nov. 1515 directed to the customers themselves (untraceable). The determinatio (p. 94) notes that the customers accounted for a total of £130 4s 7d (calculated at 4 marks/sack), but that Gate retained the remainder of the customs and subsidies which would have been due on the wool (£58 11s 11d) at the alien rates required by statute.³ The enrolled account⁴ reproduces this information, adding that, of the 500 sacks of wool granted by the king's patent, Gate had already exported 136 sacks and 2

That sufficed for the Exchequer. There was no discussion of the matter in the final audit of the account.⁸

Francisco de Bardi of Florence

The particulars of account record three shipments of wool to the Mediterranean by the Florentine merchant Francisco de Bardi through his Florentine factors Petro Francisco de Barde, Thoma Cavalcanti and Bernardo Cavalcanti (ship 86, p. 81; ship 88, p. 84; ship 89, p. 85). Notes appended to the individual entries state that the customers received 40s/sack for all customs, subsidy and Calais duties by warrant of Henry VIII's patent of 25 Feb. 1516 (Appendix II) and a corresponding writ dated 27 Feb. 1516 and directed to the customers themselves (untraceable). The determinatio (p. 94) notes that the customers accounted for a total of £253 3s 1½d wool customs, wool subsidy and Calais duties (calculated at 40s/sack), but that de Bardi retained the remainder of the customs and subsidies which would have been due on the wool (£236 5s 7d) at the alien rates required by statute.⁹ The enrolled account¹⁰ reproduces this information, noting that, of the total of 343½ sacks of wool granted by the patent, de Bardi had already exported 39 sacks, 25 cloves via London the previous year,¹¹ 14 sacks, 12 cloves of wool via Southampton the previous year¹² and 21 sacks, 12 cloves of wool via Southampton in the current year.¹³

That sufficed for the Exchequer. There was no discussion of the matter in the final audit of the account.¹⁴

William Sidney

The particulars of account record shipments of wool to the Mediterranean by William Sidney through his alien factors Petro Corse (Florence), Anthonio Cavallary (Lucca), Jesop and Ricardo Nicholyn (Lucca) and Leonardo Friscobalde (Florence) in three ships (ship 86, p. 82-3; ship 89, p. 85-6 and ship 90, p. 87-9). Notes appended to the entries state that the customers received 5 marks/sack (66s 8d) for all customs, subsidy and Calais duties by warrant of Henry VIII's patent of 5 Mar. 1516 (Appendix III) and a corresponding writ dated 7 Mar. 1516 and directed to the customers. The determinatio (p. 95) notes that the customers accounted for a total of £785 6s 8d for wool customs, wool subsidy and Calais duties (calculated at 66s 8d/sack), but that Sidney retained the remainder of the customs and subsidies which would have been due on the wool (£125 13s ½d) at the alien rates required by statute.¹⁵ The enrolled account¹⁶ reproduces this information, noting that, of the total of 2000 sacks of wool granted by the patent, Sidney had already exported 172½ sacks, 3 cloves of wool via London the previous year¹⁷ and 57 sacks, 13 cloves via Southampton the previous year.¹⁸

That sufficed for the Exchequer. There was no discussion of the matter in the final audit of the account.¹⁹

Hugh Clopton

The particulars of account record one shipment of wool to the Mediterranean by the London mercer Hugh Clopton (ship 87, p. 83-4). A note appended to the entry states that the customers received 4 marks/sack (53s 4d) for all customs, subsidy and Calais duties by warrant of Henry VIII's patent granted to Clopton and William Crane, gentleman of the royal chapel, on 6 Oct. 1512 (Appendix IV) and the corresponding writ directed to the customers themselves and dated 8 Oct. 1512 (untraceable). The determinatio (p. 95) states that the customers accounted for a total of £31 20d for wool customs, wool subsidy and Calais duties (calculated at 53s 4d/sack), but that Clopton had retained the remainder of the customs and subsidies which would have been due on the wool (£13 19s 10d) at the alien rates required by statute.²⁰ The enrolled account²¹ reproduces this information, noting that, of the total of 600 sacks of wool granted by the patent, Clopton had already exported 480 sacks, 4 cloves via London in previous years.²²

That sufficed for the Exchequer. There was no discussion of the matter in the final audit of the account.²³

William Gonson

The particulars of account record one shipment of wool to the Mediterranean by William Gonson (ship 87, p. 84). A note appended to the entry states that the customers received 4 marks/sack (53s 4d) for all customs, subsidy and Calais duties by warrant of Henry VIII's patent granted to Gonson on 1 June 1513 (Appendix V) and the corresponding writ directed to the customers themselves and dated 6 Oct. 1512 (untraceable). The determinatio (p. 96) states that the customers accounted for a total of £59 3s 9d for wool customs, wool subsidy and Calais duties (calculated at 53s 4d/sack), but that Gonson had retained the remainder of the customs and subsidies which would have been due on the wool (£26 12s 7d) at the alien rates required by statute.²⁴ The enrolled account²⁵ reproduces this information, noting that, of the total of 100 sacks of wool granted by the patent, Gonson had already exported 46¾ sacks via London in the previous two years.²⁶

That sufficed for the Exchequer. There was no discussion of the matter in the final audit of the account.²⁷

Richard Fermour

The particulars record record two shipments of wool to the Mediterranean by Richard Fermour and his factor and attorney, the London mercer William Dukket (ship 91, p. 89-90). A note appended to the entry states that the customers received 4 marks/sack (53s 4d) for all customs, subsidy and Calais duties by warrant of Henry VIII's patent granted to Fermour on 5 Feb. 1513 (Appendix VI) and the corresponding writ directed to the customers themselves and dated 3 Feb. 1514 (untraceable). The determinatio (p. 96) states that the customers accounted for a total of £177 5s 10d for wool customs, wool subsidy and Calais duties (calculated at 53s 4d/sack), but that Fermour had retained the remainder of the customs and subsidies which would have been due on the wool (£79 15s 5½d) at the alien rates required by statute.²⁸ The enrolled account²⁹ reproduces this information, noting that, of the total of 600 sacks of wool granted by the patent, Fermour had already exported 444¾ sacks, 1 clove via London in the previous years.³⁰

That sufficed for the Exchequer. There was no discussion of the matter in the final audit of the account.³¹

The customers' particulars of account were fiscal documents, forming an integral part of the procedure imposed on the customers when accounting for the crown's customs income before the Exchequer. As such, they were marked up by the auditor when he summed up the crown's income according to the various categories and tariffs. These marginated annotations form an integral part of the source and, in my view of it, deserve to be reproduced in full. I have done this in the following way. First of all, the auditor's summations of income at the end of each page or membrane (including the jottings reproducing the position of the counters on the counting table) have been reproduced as written in the account. Second, all other marginated notes (e.g. a cross or an asterisk indicating an error) are noted in the normal way in the critical apparatus. However, recording the eternally repetitive marginal notes on the tariff categories to which particular products belonged (panni ind', panni al', panni Hans', per breve etc.) call for a different solution, since including them in the critical apparatus would simply blimp it up to no useful purpose. Consequently, I have indicated them in the text by employing superscript letters in angle brackets (e.g. ^{}De Roberto Derlyngton) and resolving these in a block at the bottom of the page (Auditor's marginated notations L:  panni ind?).

The problem of the hundredweight is exceedingly vexed. While it is well known that a hundredweight can correspond to 100 lb., 112 lb. or 120 lb. avoirdupois,³² there is no way to know which of these three values applies when a customer writes c lb. or fractions and multiples thereof. Just occasionally, when the particulars of account and the controlment roll have survived, some insight is possible, for instance if one of the two records a particular merchant's exports of pewter vessels as di' c lb. vasorum stanni and the other the same goods as lvj lb. vasorum stanni.³³ But these cases are far too rare to inspire confident generalizing. Consequently, I have decided to leave the matter unsolved, marking the text in such a way that the reader can easily reconstruct the entry. The most common notation of weight – multiples of 'c' – has not been marked up. Thus iiij^c lb. is simply transcribed as 300 lb. If the thousand sign was used, the number is marked with a cross: thus, ij M' lb. is transcribed as 2000[†] lb. (but xx^c lb. as 2000 lb.) If the sign for one half is used, this is indicated by an asterisk: thus, di' c lb. is transcribed as 50* lb. (but l lb. as 50 lb.) And finally, if the sign for one quarter is used, this is indicated by a double cross: thus, c q' lb. is transcribed as 125[‡] lb.

Diplomatic Notes on the Form of the Edition

The transcriptions of Latin documents in this edition observe the conventions of the Monumenta Germaniae Historica. The source texts (and all variants) are reproduced in normal type, while editorial intrusions are printed without exception in italics (e.g. mardre L3, in error). Unambiguous abbreviations are expanded silently, without using square brackets or italics to indicate missing letters. u/v and i/j have been regularized silently to accord with pronunciation: thus vniuersalis in the source text is rendered universalis, while 'i' is transcribed if the letter is pronounced as a vowel (imperii), and 'j' if the letter is pronounced as a consonant, i.e. like the 'y' in 'you' (majestas), even if the source writes imperij and maiestas.

Personal names and place names are transcribed exactly as written and only regularized in the Index of People and Places.

Roman numerals are reproduced as Arabic numerals, except for the sovereign's ordinal (Edwardi ivth). Arabic numerals which occur in the source texts are indicated by bold type. ob' is given as ½d, q' as ¼d and ob' q' as ¾d.

Following the convention in German, I have used a full stop after a number to indicate the ordinal rather than the cardinal, if a number is not written out. Thus,

³² OED s.v. hundredweight.

³³ Therefore, when transcribing entries regarding the export of pewter vessels, I have retained the hundredweight (e.g. pro 9 centenis vasorum stanni).

27. die Januarii (p. 147) is to be understood as vicesimo septimo die Januarii, rather than viginti septem die Januarii.

When transcribing the customs accounts, I have numbered the ships consecutively in italics in square brackets. The individual paragraphs of longer texts have also been numbered in the same way. The reason for this is that the web version of the accounts and accounting materials for the Lancastrian period has no pagination, since the amount of text displayed on the screen depends on the size of the monitor and its resolution. Consequently, cross references – whether within a single document, from one document to another or in the indices – to 'page thus-and-such' are meaningless, and some internal sub-division of the text which can be linked in is unavoidable. Since some scholars will want to use the printed version of the edition and others the web edition, it is necessary to provide a common basis. Thus, if one scholar refers to ship No. 24 in the digital version of a particular account, those using the printed version will be able to find the vessel in question.

All dates and cross references in the source texts have been resolved in italics in square brackets in the text of the edition, rather than in footnotes.

If both the particulars of account and the controlment roll survive, certain variants have been suppressed to avoid inflating the text-critical apparatus. Thus, neither the substitution of 'y' in one text for 'i' in the other (e.g. Willyamson, Williamson) nor middle English plural variants (-es, -is, -ys etc.) have been noted in the apparatus criticus. In general, I have limited the notation of textual variants to those cases in which the variant spelling of a word changes the pronunciation. Thus, the variant federbeds will be noted against fetherbeds, but not fedderbeds or federbeddes against federbeds.

Punctuation is artificial and ignores all medieval full stops, commas and so forth. Since Latin is a syntactic language (like German), the eminently useful MGH convention – namely to employ punctuation (according to the pre-reform German rules) to mark up the grammatical structure of the sentence – has been employed here. I have also broken up the stylistically elegant, but utterly incomprehensible run-on Latin sentences of the source texts into manageable units.

Since we are dealing with late medieval administrative Latin, there are some cases which call for local by-laws.

First of all, there are a number of middle English words embedded in the Latin texts which have to be assigned a gender, since they are often modified by an abbreviated adjective (e.g. pro 1 parv' fetherbed). Since the adjectives are written out in a number of instances (pro 1 parvo fetherbed), I have arbitrarily imposed a masculine grammatical gender on all middle English words rather than litter the edition with apostrophes.

Second, the sources themselves are in a muddle as to whether the words custuma and subsidium are singular or plural, and usually avoid the problem by writing cust' and subs'. If a scribe does write out the one or the other word, it is almost inevitable that he will contradict himself, writing custuma in one line and custume a few lines later. This muddle is not merely the result of scribal carelessness or low standards of Latinity. In the fifteenth century, it was possible to differentiate between the collective noun (in the singular) denoting the charges to be paid and the individual sums (in the plural) which each merchant rendered. Even bearing this in mind, however, scribes are simply not consistent. Taking each individual text as a whole, I have done my best to reproduce what the scribe seemed to be thinking.

Henry VIII to all: grants Geoffrey Gate kt. a licence to purchase (through his indigenous or alien factors, attorneys, deputies and assignees) 500 sacks of wool of any English county from natives and aliens, either with his own money or with that of others, and to export the said wool to the Mediterranean via London, Southampton and Sandwich, irrespective of the statute 14 Ric. Appendix II: Francisco de Bardi

Henry VIII to all: grants Francisco de Bardi, a merchant of Florence, a licence to purchase (by himself or through his indigenous or alien factors, attorneys and assignees) 343½ sacks of wool of any English county or counties, from any native or alien, with his own money or with that of others, and export the said wool to the Mediterranean via London or Southampton, irrespective of the statute 14 Ric. INDEX OF PEOPLE AND PLACES

In accordance with current usage, the first names of Englishmen and -women have been standardized to their current forms. Thus Willelmus in the accounts is indexed as William and so forth. Italian and Spanish first names are given in the 'ablative' (Andrea, Beaceo, Roderigo rather than Andreas, Beaceus, Roderigus). The first names of other foreigners, who are largely Dutch and German, are normally indexed in something approaching their modern forms, e.g. Johannes, Jacob, Herman, Hugo rather than Hugh (which would indicate an Englishman). However, it is not possible to be entirely consistent. Take, as an example, Willelmus. Is one to index Hanseatic merchants as Wilhelm, but Dutch merchants and shippers as Willem or Wim and the Dinanters as Guillaume? To do so would simply be to introduce incredible confusion, entirely leaving aside the intractable problem of distinguishing between merchants of Dutch and Hanseatic origin. Therefore, in a number of cases I have indexed Dutch and German merchants' first names in the current English form: e.g. Paul, William, Laurence, Andrew, Henry.

Family names have been grouped, where possible, in the index, with cross references leading the reader from the variants to the main entry, which records all variant spellings in parentheses. However, given the inconsistency of the customers' scribes, I have found it impossible to resolve all doubts and have therefore tried to steer a middle course between the splitters and the lumpers. There are cases where there can be no doubt that divergent spellings denote one and the same merchant. On the other hand, there are cases where I am all but certain that variant spellings denote one person, yet am troubled by nagging doubts. In these cases I record the names separately and referred back and forth ('see also N.N.').

The order of the family names in the index is phonological, so that, for instance, 'y' is alphabetized as 'i'.

Place names are in small capitals.

INDEX OF SUBJECTS

The index is structured so as to serve as a glossary. Hence, the main entry is under the word as it appears in the sources (zinziber), and a cross-reference leads the reader from the modern English term to the main entry (ginger see zinziber). If a term is in Middle English, the plural form is also given (e.g. alle hafte, -s); if in Latin, the genitive (e.g. allec, ecis). More than one reference per page is not noted.
